HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?

RRP $20.00

A collection of short stories reflecting the passion for gardening shared by children on opposite sides of the country: the students of the Tjuntjuntjara Remote Community School, who have established an organic vegetable patch in the challenging conditions of their home in the Great Victoria Desert, Western Australia – and Lachie Coman, a school boy from Melbourne. This book shows that gardens can truly bring people together.

READING WITH CHILDREN

RRP $19.95

This easy to follow guide shows parents how to help children to learn how to read, and the importance of having books around the home.

The following books were produced in collaboration with Volunteering Qld – Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Natural Disaster Resilience project.

WHAT IS A DISASTER I HEAR YOU SAY

RRP $10.00

Developed in collaboration between ILF, Quandamook people of North Stradbroke Island and the Dunwich State School, North Stradbroke Island. This book is about natural disasters, written and illustrated by the students of Dunwich State School. It has definitions and short pieces on everything from fires to floods, earthquakes to tornadoes as well as advice on what to take with you in event of a disaster.

DON'T LET THURSDAY ISLAND BURN

RRP $9.95

Learn fire safety with Thursday Island's Firefighter Dave and his friends Kuam and Anah. With colourful illustrations from workshops held at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart and the Thursday Island Community Centre, this book teaches kids about the work done by firefighters and fire engines, how fires start, the importance of smoke alarms, and how to dial 000 in an emergency.

WHEN FLOOD CAME TO CHERBOURG

RRP $9.95

The children of Cherbourg State School have put together an easy to follow and beautiful book about the importance of flood safety. Education is the key to understanding disasters, and how to be prepared and to stay safe when they threaten. This book outlines key safety messages during times of flood such as staying away from floodwaters and banding together as a community to help those in need.

ALPHABET ANTICS

RRP $10.00

An alphabet book featuring the community and landmarks of Stradbroke Island.
